

The Emergency Panel is composed of five members of the duly elected Executive Committee, namely:

- a) the UEFA President,
- b) the First Vice-President,
- c) the vice-president chairing the Finance Committee and
- d) two other members of the Executive Committee appointed by the UEFA President on a case-by-case basis.

In the absence of any of the aforementioned, the highest-ranked available UEFA vice-president will deputise for the absent member. The General Secretary is in charge of the administration of the Emergency Panel.

Between meetings of the Executive Committee, the Emergency Panel is authorised to take and execute final decisions on urgent matters that fall under the authority of the Executive Committee.

The Emergency Panel may take decisions in meetings or, if none of its members calls for a meeting, by conference call or correspondence.

The Emergency Panel may also assist with the preparation of business to be dealt with by the Executive Committee.

The UEFA President calls meetings of the Emergency Panel by phone, email or fax. The UEFA President chairs the meetings of the Emergency Panel.

In the absence of the UEFA President, the highest-ranked available UEFA vice-president calls and/or chairs meetings of the Emergency Panel.

The Emergency Panel decides by a simple majority of all its members.

In the event of a tie, the chairman has the casting vote.

The Executive Committee is informed at its next meeting about the execution of the decisions taken by the Emergency Panel.