Match background

Arsenal will aim to book their place in the last eight against a Hoffenheim side who are themselves hoping to secure a comprehensive win that will enable them to leapfrog the North Londoners and snatch second place in Group C behind Barcelona.

- The Gunners have a competition-record 13 quarter-final appearances under their belt and will extend that figure as long as they avoid defeat by five goals or more at the Dietmar-Hopp-Stadion.
- Jonas Eidevall's Arsenal won 4-0 at Borehamwood on Matchday 2, thanks to Kim Little's 21st-minute penalty, Tobin Heath's strike just before the break – her first for the Gunners – Vivianne Miedema's close-range finish just after the interval and Leah Williamson's late header.

Ones to watch: Hoffenheim

Nicole Billa

- The 25-year-old struck twice from the penalty spot as Die Kraichgauer came from behind to win against HB Køge on 9 December.
- The striker had also scored in the 5-0 Matchday 1 victory against the Danish side on 5 October.
- Billa scored 23 goals in the Frauen-Bundesliga last term, finishing as the division's top scorer with six more than her nearest challenger.
- The Austrian international started both of her country's recent FIFA Women's World Cup qualifiers, scoring twice in the 8-0 away win against Luxembourg on 30 November.

Jule Brand

- The 19-year-old won the first spot kick in her side's comeback victory against HB Køge on Matchday 5.
- The midfielder has started all but one of Hoffenheim's matches in this competition this term including qualifying, scoring twice in the preliminary rounds.
- Brand is a product of the Hoffenheim youth set-up and made her senior debut in September 2020.
- Scored just two minutes after coming on as a substitute on her first senior appearance for Germany in April 2021.

Tine De Caigny

- The 24-year-old has scored three goals in this tournament so far this term including qualifying; only Billa, with four, has more for Hoffenheim.
- De Caigny has found the net with her only two efforts on target in the group stage, scoring twice in the 5-0 Matchday 1 success against HB Køge.
- The forward joined Die Kraichgauer ahead of the current campaign from Anderlecht, where she won the Belgian Women's Super League titles in each of her four full seasons.
- Top scorer in qualifying for the 2022 UEFA Women's EURO with 12 goals, De Caigny struck four times in Belgium's two recent FIFA Women's World Cup matches including a hat-trick in the victory against Armenia on 25 November.

Ones to watch: Arsenal

Kim Little

- The 31-year-old's penalty opened the scoring in the 4-0 Matchday 2 victory against Hoffenheim.
- The former Scottish international became the ninth player to reach 40 UEFA women's club goals with that successful spot kick.
- The Gunners skipper sits joint-eighth in terms of highest scorers in this competition, along with Nina Burger, and needs three goals to overtake Lotta Schelin and move alongside Camille Abily in sixth.
- The midfielder, who has won a total of 13 major honours across her two spells with the WSL club, scored her 150th Arsenal goal in early October.

Vivianne Miedema

- The forward scored her first goal of this group stage against Hoffenheim on 14 October.
- The 25-year-old has fired in nine attempts on target in this group stage, behind only Wolfsburg's Tabea Wassmuth (13).
- Miedema struck in all three of Arsenal's qualifying fixtures, her hat-trick in the 4-0 Round 2 qualifying, second-leg victory at Slavia Praha on 9 September bringing up a century of goals for the north London club.
- The Dutch international has finished as the joint top scorer in two UEFA Women's Champions League campaigns, hitting eight with Bayern München in 2016/17 and ten for Arsenal two seasons ago.

Nikita Parris

- The 27-year-old has started Arsenal's last three UEFA Women's Champions League matches having come on as a substitute in the opening two.
- The forward had a 16th-minute penalty kept out by Kaylan Marckese in the Matchday 3 meeting with HB Køge, before getting on the scoresheet just after the hour.
- The summer signing, who joined the Gunners for a club-record fee from Lyon in July, opened her Arsenal account on her debut in the 4-0 qualifying victory against Okzhetpes on 18 August.
- Parris scored four goals in six appearances during Les Lyonnaises' run to the final of this competition in 2019/20, but missed the 3-1 showpiece success against Wolfsburg through suspension following a red card in the semi-final victory against Paris.

Key stats

- Hoffenheim's previous two home matches in the 2021/22 UEFA Women's Champions League group stage have both finished with the victorious team scoring five goals without reply – a 5-0 win against HB Køge on Matchday 1 and the loss to Barcelona by the same scoreline in the fourth round of games.
- There has been a total of 16 goals scored in Hoffenheim's three European home games this season.
- Arsenal have won eight of their last ten UEFA Women's Champions League matches outside of England (L2).
- The London club have lost four of their previous five away European games against German clubs (L4).
- Arsenal have scored in their last 14 UEFA Women's Champions League matches outside of England.
